Welling to Speak at Special Rally Tonight

Congressman Milton B. Welling, Democratic candidate for senator, will be the principal speaker at a special rally in Democratic headquarters, Bertha building, tonight, according to an announcement by Chairman Martin P. Brown today. It was not known until today that Congressman Welling would be available for a meeting in Ogden this evening, due to the fact that he was originally scheduled to speak in Salt Lake county tonight.

Ralph Goodenough For Troop's Scribe

At a meeting of the Scouts of Troop 14, held last night, one member of the organization was named as the scribe for the troop. He was selected from the entire troop and should be able to handle the reins with proper effect, according to Scoutmaster A. Allen.

CARD OF THANKS

The loving sympathy of relatives and friends extended during our sad bereavement in the burial of our beloved son, Raymond M. Holmes, was a source of great comfort and we desire hereby to express our heartfelt thanks. Especially are we appreciative of the kindness of the North Ogden blimpie, speakers, singers, American Legion, who furnished flowers and automobiles at the funeral. May He who rewards for all good ever bless you. MR. and MRS. MILTON HOLMES and FAMILY.

Aspirin

You must say "Bayer"

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets, you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for 21 years. Insist upon an unbroken package of genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" containing proper directions and dose proved safe by millions.

Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets cost but a few cents—Larger packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocarbonylchloride of Salicylic acid.

MANY ATTEND NIGHT SCHOOL

Superintendent Hopkins Says Special Courses Attract Considerable Attention

Success is attending the sessions of the night school, according to Superintendent W. Karl Hopkins. Concerning the various courses, Superintendent Hopkins today issued the following statement:

"Never before in the history of Ogden has there been such enthusiasm of night school as is being manifested this year. About 400 students are registered in the regular night school classes, exclusive of the classes in Americanization and in university extension courses. The night school might truthfully be called Ogden's opportunity school."

"Two business courses offered by the University of Utah and one by the agricultural college are worthy of special attention."

"On Monday evenings at 7 o'clock in room 205 at the senior high school a 24 week course is given in commercial law. The instructor in charge is Professor D. M. Draper of Salt Lake City. The work given is of college grade and is decidedly practical. It is a course that can be taken with profit by most any Ogden citizen who can spare one evening per week."

"On Thursday evenings a course in contemporary history will be given by Dr. E. G. Fellows of the University of Utah. This class will meet at 7 o'clock in room 218 at the high school."

"Following this class, in the same room, a course in salesmanship and advertising will be given by Professor Earl J. Glade of Salt Lake City. This class will meet promptly at 8:30 p. m. and is proving one of the most popular courses ever offered by the university."

"On Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in room 202 Professor E. E. Nelson offers a course in elementary accounting, while at 8:30 o'clock on the same evening he offers a course in advanced accounting, leading to a degree of certified public accountant."

"Then, too, there are offered courses in music, French, art, Spanish, domestic art, domestic science, chemistry, mechanical drawing, mathematics, English, bookkeeping, typewriting, stenography, penmanship, operation of office machines, physical education, commercial arithmetic and auto mechanics. These courses are offered on Monday and Thursday evenings and are proving very popular."

CONTRABAND FEATHERS ON LADIES' HATS ARE SEIZED

MAON, Okla., Oct. 19.—Allegrettes valued at $500 were seized here recently at the establishment of the Danenberg company, wholesale and retail dry goods merchants, by E. L. Whitehead, United States Game Warden, on the ground that it is a violation of the federal law to have in one's possession any part of a migratory bird. The warden saw the plumes on display in the show window and he called and asked that all allegrettes, egret plumes, or sandhill egret plumes in the store be turned over to him. He secured eighteen bunches which the manager said had been in the store for twelve years.

The case is being handled through the United States department of agriculture and through the department of justice.

The allegrettes are taken from herons, which migrate during different seasons of the year, and the feathers cannot be lawfully owned. Hundreds of women in Georgia own allegrettes, most of them purchased before the law went into effect, but they are now the less violators of the law, it is claimed.

KICKS DOWN THE JAIL

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—Wayne Conklin, 16, recently escaped from a training school and held in the county jail here pending his return, eluded his guards and leisurely kicked a hole in the prison brick wall before sliding to freedom via a drain pipe.

SCANDAL ALWAYS INTERESTING

Everybody loves a scandal—except those immediately concerned. People may not approve of gossip—but they usually listen! A mean little story is easier to start going than a drive for charity funds, and it chains more undivided attention before it finishes than a home run by the local team. Everybody is interested, you bet, though many are too polite to cheer. Well, Maybelle's floral kisser started this particular scandal going, though goodness knows the poor girl was innocent of any evil intentions. If you like to laugh till your sides ache this weather, don't miss "Food for Scandal," starring beautiful Wanda Hawley, which comes to the Alhambra theatre on the 24th for a three-day run.

THE PERFECT DAHLIA--

EAGLE ROCK, Cal.—Here is the prize dahlia of California, "The Ambassador." It has taken several prizes at flower shows. The flower is the result of various intermarriages in the flower world. J. J. Broomall is the horticulturist who developed it. The picture shows Miss Rose Cade with the dahlia.

28,000 CAN'T SPEAK ENGLISH

Utah's Program of Americanization to Help Solve Problem

There are twenty-eight thousand adults in this state who are unable to read or speak English, according to information contained in a pamphlet, "Americanization in Utah," issued by the extension division of the University of Utah. The bulletin was prepared by Arch M. Thurman, state director of Americanization, at the request of the university.

The local problem is a difficult one, according to Mr. Thurman, because there is need of Americanization education live in industrial centers among their own countrymen and so do not adopt American speech and customs. Schools, clubs and industrial organizations, co-operating with the government, can do much to solve this problem, Mr. Thurman believes.

In discussing the work done in the state, Mr. Thurman writes: "In Utah the last session of the legislature passed an Americanization act providing leadership for this work. It also appropriated certain funds for distributed among the districts doing Americanization work. This is evidence that with national and state co-operation the people of Utah are determined to accomplish the solution of this problem in the most effective way."

The university extension division offers a correspondence course for the teachers of Americanization; they also have plans for distribution that are aids in Americanization work.

WITCHING HOUR SCORES HERE

Varsity Players Attract Large Crowd to Orpheum Theatre

"The Witching Hour," the Augustus Thomas play which was played with great success by John Mason, was presented at the Orpheum theatre by the Varsity players last night under the auspices of the Weber Normal college for the benefit of the Weber gymnasium.

There was an exceptionally large audience in attendance and everybody enjoyed to the utmost the presentation of the thrilling drama in which telegraphic figures prominently in the plot. The Varsity players is a Salt Lake organization which presents plays in the Social Hall little theatre. The plays are produced by Professor Maud May Babcock of the University of Utah. The Social Hall little theatre is really the "laboratory" of the department of dramatic art of the university.

It has been the custom to have a few professional players in the Varsity players organization. Among those occupying these leading positions are Moroni Olsen, Byron Foulger and Joseph Williams, all of Ogden.

Mr. Olsen and Mr. Foulger were especially good last night as was also Edwin R. Wolfe, playing the role of Frank Harbunum. Among the women in the cast the work of Esther Hill as Mrs. Campbell stood out. Others in the excellent cast are Sumner C. Cobb, Chester Meyers, Chauncey R. Houston, Janet Young, Ruth Mason and Lester Shaffer.

ATTEMPT ON LIFE OF PRINCE FAILS

SARAJEVO, Serbia—Prince Alexander of Serbia was the intended victim of a bomb thrown under the prince's train at Sarajevo recently. Two coaches were wrecked but the prince was uninjured. Sarajevo was the scene of the assassination of Francis Ferdinand, crown prince of Austria-Hungary and his wife in June, 1914, by Gavrilo Princip. This assassination precipitated the World War. Alexander became heir apparent to the throne when his elder brother George renounced his rights as heir in 1913 because of his unpopularity.

REWARDED BY COURT FOR LONG SERVICE

PETERBURG, Ind.—Mrs. Mattie Bullock thought she ought to have something for 21 years of nursing and keeping house for her brother-in-law, H. R. Snyder, banker. The court thought so, too, and she has just been awarded $17,500 for her services.

Ogden Men to Attend U. A. I. Banquet Friday

Apollis Stephen L. Richards of Salt Lake has been named toastmaster for the James A. Emery banquet, which is to be given at the Hotel Utah at 7 o'clock Friday night, October 23, under the auspices of the Utah Associated Industries.

W. Fred Bommer, local secretary for the Utah Associated Industries, announced today that at least 200 prominent business men of Ogden would attend the banquet. Logan, Provo and other cities of the state will also be represented, he stated.

In order that proper accommodations may be provided, it is requested by Mr. Bommer that all who wish to attend the banquet notify him at once, that reservations may be made. In cases where parties, such as the official staff of an institution wish to be seated together, such arrangements will be made if requested, according to Secretary Bommer.

An address by Mr. Emery will be the principal feature of the evening's entertainment.
